Hodge Pleads Guilty to Looting State Treasury; Sentence is Delayed

Placed in Custody Of Sheriff to Await Action Monday

SPRINGFIELD, Ill. — Deposed State Auditor Orville E. Hodge today pleaded guilty to looting of the state treasury of $637,000.

Sentencing was delayed until next Monday, and Hodge was placed in custody of the Sangamon County sheriff.

Hodge sat nervously at the defense table in the Sangamon County Circuit Court room, nodded his head and murmured "Yes sir," when asked what his plea was.

Circuit Judge Clem Smith discharged Hodge's $100,000 bond and he was placed in custody of sheriff's officers for transfer to the county jail to await sentencing.

Hodge was taken to the Sangamon County jail and placed in a cellblock. He walked into the cellblock, took off his suit jacket, and started shaking hands with his new cellmates, many of them weekend drunks.

Fitzgerald said he would try to get a doctor's report on Hodge's health that would enable him to be taken from jail and placed in custody in a hospital.

As Hodge was getting his first taste of jail life, his attorneys were turning over all his assets and those of his wife to Illinois Atty. Gen. LaHam Castle in Chicago.

Castle estimated Hodge's worldly goods as worth about $636,000. Hodge had said he "was willing to go completely broke to make partial restitution for his raid on the state treasury."

Hodge's attorney, Arthur M. Fitzgerald, objected to the delay in sentencing and said Hodge was under the care of a physician and a psychiatrist and had lost 20 pounds in the last two weeks.

Fitzgerald said "a week of uncertainty" would further damage Hodge's health.

However, Smith overruled the request and accepted the motion of State's Atty. George P. Contrakon to be delayed until next Monday. Contrakon said he wanted a presentencing hearing to present evidence "in aggravation of the charges" against Hodge.

Hodge pleaded guilty to 46 indictments, each of which charged embezzlement, forgery and confidence game in connection with 46 state checks totaling $637,000. Each indictment included six counts.

He also pleaded guilty to two indictments charging conspiracy to defraud the state.

Maximum penalty on each of the 46 indictments is 1 to 15 years. Maximum penalty on the two conspiracy indictments is 1 to 5 years each.

Sahara Awarded Certificate by Illinois Navy Club

Thirty-two high school youths assembled from various cities of Illinois last week participated in a 750-mile cruise of interesting spots in Illinois, which is a project annually of the Illinois squadron of the Navy Club of the U. S. A., and the cruise by big bus brought them to the Sahara No. 6 strip mine Saturday.

There the group was taken on a tour of the properties by Superintendent J. A. Bottomley and other Sahara employees, and at noon a picnic was held on Sahara lake.

High point of the visit here was the presentation to the Sahara Coal Co. of a certificate by A. A. Thorsell, chairman of the youth activity committee of the Illinois squadron.

In making the presentation to Mr. Bottomley, Mr. Thorsell, a resident of Springfield, said:

"The Sahara Coal Co. has shown great interest in the youth of the country through its co-operation for the past six years with the Illinois Squadron, Navy Club of U. S. A., by demonstrating the important niche occupied by the great coal industry in the industrial and commercial life of the State of Illinois."

"For its foresight and willingness to accept a role in educating our citizens of tomorrow in American enterprise, the Sahara Coal Co. has won the respect and admiration of our members in Illinois and throughout the nation."

"This citation represents a token repayment for outstanding service in fostering the American way of life in our Illinois youth, who have annually participated in the Illinois Squadron's project, the Young Pioneers Historical Cruise of Illinois."

The group, which came here from a visit to Southern Illinois University at Carbondale, left here to visit the Abe Lincoln monument at Vincennes, Ind.

Accompanying Mr. Thorsell was Robert E. Oitker, also of Springfield, the skipper in charge of the cruise.

Auto Injuries Fatal to Sgt. George Freedl

Plan to Bring Body Here, Then Remove to Missouri for Funeral

Sgt. George K. Freedl, U. S. Army recruiting officer in Harrisburg the past three years, died at 10 a. m. today in Marion Memorial hospital of auto injuries he received early Saturday.

Wayne Lewis Cox, 25, of Grantsburg was killed and Freedl and Asa Mitchell, 29, of Harrisburg were injured when Freedl's convertible auto left Route 37 on a curve three miles south of Goreville.

Sgt. Freedl was believed to have suffered a skull fracture among his injuries. Reports from Marion Memorial hospital today were that there was no change in Mitchell's condition, which Saturday was reported as fair.

Freedl's wife, Louise, a Japanese girl whom he married while on duty in Japan, telephoned friends following his death that she planned to have his body brought to Harrisburg for one day before going on to Missouri for the funeral and burial. He was a native of the Springfield, Mo., area.

Await Military Escort

She said that she was waiting for military escort from Scott Air Force Base to arrive at Marion to accompany the body here, to lie in state at a local funeral home.

Plans, it was learned from the United Press, are to take the body from Harrisburg to Greenville, Mo., for the funeral service with burial at Dadeville, Mo.

Sgt. Freedl's mother and stepfather have been with him since arriving after hearing of the accident. A sister, Janice, was visiting with the Freedls at the time of the accident.

An inquest into his death will be held at 7 p. m. Tuesday at the Marion city hall. Cox died instantly at the scene of the wreck in Johnson county and his inquest will be held at the Robinson funeral home in Vienna tonight.

11 Killed on Illinois Highways

By United Press

Highway accidents accounted for at least 11 deaths during the week-end in Illinois.

The worst accident occurred Saturday on Ill. 3, about 11 miles south of Waterloo in which five persons died in a two-car collision.

The dead were identified as Eugene Choate, 31, Chester, Ill.; H. C. Travis, 55, Mrs. Gladys Travis, 46, and Mrs. Emma Travis, all of Fomfelt, Mo., and Mrs. Ethel Hensley, 50, Lawrenceville, Ill.

The body was moved to the Miller funeral home in Carrier Mills. Pallbearers for the funeral were H. J. Russell, Harem Hancock, Hughie Gilchrist, John Jenkins, Floyd Anderson and Tom Martin.

Paul Black, 51, Dies Suddenly

Paul Black, 51, died suddenly at his home on Carrier Mills Route 1 about 2:30 p. m. Saturday and Coroner Elmer M. Gibbons, who conducted an inquiry, said he died of a coronary insufficiency.

His funeral was held at 2 p. m. today at the First Baptist church in Carrier Mills with the Rev. Ernest Ammon conducting the service and burial was in Providence cemetery.

Coroner Gibbons said he learned that a year ago a specialist in Evansville told Black he had a bad heart and should take things easy, but that he continued his work for the Delta Coal Co. He went back to the specialist about a month ago.

Saturday he was in Harrisburg and Carrier Mills with his wife, Dimple, and did not complain of feeling ill. When they arrived home about 2 p. m. he began rubbing off the car, his wife told the coroner, adding that later she saw him slumped over in a chair outside. He was dead in a matter of minutes.

The son of Mr. and Mrs. Wright Black, he leaves his wife, two children and two sisters. The children are Mrs. William A. Peck of Chicago and Freddie Black of Carrier Mills Route 1. His sisters are Mrs. Grant Richey of Herrin and Mrs. Orval Kennedy of Carrier Mills Route 1. Grandchildren are Sinda Sue and Freddie Gene Black.

The body was moved to the Miller funeral home in Carrier Mills. Pallbearers for the funeral were H. J. Russell, Harem Hancock, Hughie Gilchrist, John Jenkins, Floyd Anderson and Tom Martin.

MIXED EMOTIONS—Pledged at time of arrival to give their 28 votes to Gov. Averell Harriman on the first ballot, Oklahoma delegation whoops it up at trainside in Chicago. Sprinkling of Stevenson hats and umbrellas could be signs of changing times after week-end caucuses which many delegations will hold prior to opening of the Democratic convention. (NEA Telephoto)

Water Main Breaks Uptown

Big local news yesterday was a break in a six-inch water main on the east side of the square.

It erupted the pavement, sent water pouring out among the bricks, and caused water seepage into store basements.

Amos Doom, superintendent of the Harrisburg water and sewer department, said the break was discovered about 8:20 a. m. when water caused the brick pavement to rise for about 75 feet in front of Arensmann's, Gidcomb's, Parker's, and Davenport's stores on the east side of the square. Water seeped into the Arensmann, Gidcomb and Davenport basements.

City water employees were called to the scene and dug four holes under the brick and underlying concrete before they located the break.

Seven main valves and the water tank were shut off for the operations.

Doom pointed out that the break in the main was responsible for bad water and low pressure yesterday.

Daley Heads Illinois Delegation; Powell Supports Harriman Drive

CHICAGO — Averell Harriman forces claimed to be making inroads today in the Democratic convention from Illinois, Adlai E. Stevenson's home state.

State Rep. Paul Powell, who appeared to be leading the drive for the New York governor in Illinois, estimated that 10-12 to 14 of the state's votes for the Democratic presidential nomination would not go to Stevenson.

This was disputed by Chicago Mayor Richard J. Daley, Stevenson stalwart and a top Democratic power. He was elected chairman of the Illinois delegation Sunday.

Daley told reporters he thought the Powell estimate was "too high." He wouldn't give his own figures exactly, but predicted Stevenson would win a "substantial majority" of the 64 Illinois votes.

The consensus of those who attended the Illinois caucus seemed to be that Stevenson was assured of 50 votes. Of the other 14, it appeared there were 6-12 for Harriman, 2 for Sen. Stuart Symington of Missouri, and the other 5-12 were undecided.

Daley read a statement to the caucus behind closed doors, saying he still rated Stevenson as the top

Reappointed to Welfare Committee

Atty. L. M. Hancock of Harrisburg and Kenneth R. Jackson of Galatia Route 3 have been reappointed to the Saline County Welfare committee, it was announced today by Garrett W. Keaster, executive secretary of the Illinois Public Aid commission.

In Gallatin county Horace Brown of Ridgway and William S. Rister of Shawneetown were appointed and Mrs. Mabel Pyle of New Haven was reappointed to replace Mrs. Eunice Hobbs, whose term expired June 30.

The appointments were made on recommendations of county boards of supervisors in the two counties.

candidate for the presidential nomination, despite former President Truman's endorsement of Harriman.

Daley said there would be no attempt to impose a unit rule on the state's 28 at-large delegates, each of whom has a half vote, to force them to go along with the majority.

"Every man and woman should vote for his own conscience," he said.

Daley said no poll was taken of presidential preferences, and there probably would be none until shortly before the first convention roll call Thursday.

The caucus re-elected National Committeeman Jacob M. Arvey and Committeewoman Elizabeth Conkey, both of Chicago.

Officers of the delegation named were Martin O'Brien, Aurora, vice chairman, and Alvin G. Fields, mayor of East St. Louis, secretary.

Committee appointments included Congressman William L. Dawson and Mrs. Conkey, resolutions; Albert J. Horan, Chicago, credentials; Cook County Clerk Edward J. Barrett, permanent organization; Joseph L. Gill, Chicago, rules; John E. Cassidy, Peoria, committee to notify the presidential nominee, and Mathew Beszczat, Chicago, committee to notify the vice presidential nominee.

Powell, Barham Talk with Truman On Candidates

Rep. Paul Powell of Vienna, Leroy Barham of Harrisburg, Clyde Choate of Anna and Paul Ziegler of Carmi conferred with Harry Truman in Chicago Saturday just before the former president announced he is supporting Governor Averell Harriman of New York for the Democratic nomination for president.

The southern Illinois men are Illinois delegates at the Democratic convention which convenes today.

Powell, in telephone interview with The Register, stated the group talked over "old times" with Mr. Truman, reminiscing on the latter's tour of southern Illinois in 1948; credited with winning this state for Mr. Truman when he was elected president that year.

They also advised with him regarding his choice for the Democratic presidential nomination. Powell said the four, who have not gone along with other Illinois delegates in support of former Governor Adlai Stevenson, are of the opinion Illinois would be more certain to go Democratic for the state ticket under leadership of Mr. Harriman than under Mr. Stevenson.

Harriman was described by Powell as a man "experienced at a high level in national affairs, close to former President Roosevelt and the New Deal and a man who is genuinely interested in helping Illinois."

Douglas Pleads For Harmony at Opening Session

Platform Makers Pledge to Cut Taxes, Balance the Budget

CONVENTION HALL, Chicago (U.P.)—The Democratic National Convention opened today with pleas for party unity in the midst of a hot delegate fight between Adlai E. Stevenson and Gov. Averell Harriman.

Stevenson was still more than 2-to-1 ahead of Harriman, but enough delegates to throw the nomination either way were still not committed.

The first session was recessed at 1:48 p. m. CDT until 8 o'clock tonight.

Sen. Paul H. Douglas (D-Ill.), one of a string of opening session speakers, pleaded strongly for party harmony. But in a reference to the civil rights issue, which could cause a serious rift, he said Negroes must be treated "not as beasts of burden but as human beings."

The convention platform committee has not yet drafted a plank dealing with the school integration and civil rights issue, but it announced some other proposed planks.

Keynote Speech Tonight

These would pledge the party to cut taxes, balance the budget, boost welfare spending, assure farmers full parity income, and "restore" U. S. leadership in development of atomic power. The platform is scheduled for convention action Wednesday night; presidential balloting Thursday night.

Bloodmobile to Visit County August 23 and 24

The Bloodmobile is coming to Saline county Aug. 23 and 24.

The Bloodmobile unit will be set up in the Eldorado Methodist Educational building and in the Masonic temple in Carrier Mills on Thursday, Aug. 23, and in the Harrisburg Elks club the following day, Friday, Aug. 24.

Donors may come in any time between 12 noon and 6 p. m. at Eldorado and Harrisburg. Since the Bloodmobile is to be in Carrier Mills and Eldorado on the same day, donors may come to Carrier Mills between 1 p. m. and 7 p. m. The quota for Harrisburg is 175 pints, for Eldorado 115 pints, and for Carrier Mills 60 pints.

"We are not getting enough blood donors in Saline county to support the program," Guy J. Hunter, chairman of the county program, states. The same people have been giving over and over again to try to keep the blood supply adequate. It is impossible to meet our needs in this way. We have decided to try to get full cooperation from every church and organization in the county.

"The blood program recruitment chairman are busy explaining the program and hope to be successful in meeting the county quota. The program is so important to all of us that it is going to require a lot of help from a lot of people to explain the program and get the people in our county interested enough in their own welfare to support it by giving blood," Hunter said.

The Blonde Cried MURDER

By Brett Halliday

Copyright 1956 by Brett Halliday. Distributed by NEA Service

THE STORY: A dead man's body was reported in room 316 at the Hibiscus Hotel, but no body was found there. The room had been occupied by Miss Nellie Paulson. After 10:30 o'clock Bert Paulson appears at the hotel. He had unsuccessfully tried to corner Nellie at Private Detective Mike Shayne's place, but she escaped by the fire escape. Paulson wants to wait for his sister, but when the hotel detective offers to wait with him, Paulson makes an excuse and leaves.

XVI
Starting to turn back to his office, Patton saw Bill signal to him from where he stood beside the open elevator. He plodded across to him and Bill said eagerly:

"Joe, here, swears he's seen that guy in here before. Some time this evening, he thinks, but he's not sure."

"That's right, Chief," Joe scratched his head dubiously. "I know I've seen him. In the elevator, I reckon. Seems like I noticed him special because I thought he was trying to hold the scarred side of his face away from me. Like maybe he didn't want to be recognized."

"This evening?" demanded Patton tautly.
"I just don't disremember for sure," groaned Joe. "You know how it is, Mr. Oliver. Up and down. Down and up. You don't really notice. But that man with the scar on his face—he's been in this here elevator last day or so, and that's a fact."

Patton said, "Let me know if he shows up again." He went to the desk and gave the same instructions to Dick. "And have Evvie give me an open wire if he calls, or if anybody calls for Miss Paulson."

Then, reminded of Mike Shayne's previous interest in the girl, he lumbered back to his office to telephone the red-headed detective. Unfortunately, Shayne's telephone was not answered.

10:34 P. M.
Before starting out to look for answers, Michael Shayne telephoned Lucy.

Her voice was acidly sweet as she replied in mock surprise, "Not finished with the blonde so soon, Michael?"

"All finished," he told her cheerfully, "so I decided to sick her onto you. She's not there yet."

There was a tiny pause, during which he knew Lucy was trying to decide whether he was kidding or serious. Then she said, "Not yet."

"She should be showing shortly. Be nice to her, angel. She's really in a state."

"Because you got rid of her so fast?"

Shayne growled, "This is serious, Lucy. Her name is Nellie Paulson—at least, I guess maybe it is. I don't know whether she's actually nuts or not, but she's on the fringe. Scared out of her wits. There's a guy out on the town hunting her with a gun who claims he's her brother and wants to take care of her. But she claims this guy murdered her brother and is after her now."

Lucy said pleasantly, "What interesting people you do meet, Mr. Shayne. Just what am I supposed to do with this damsel who doesn't know whether her brother is a murderer or murderess?"

"Just keep her quiet there and take care of her," growled Shayne. "Put her to bed if you can. And don't let anyone get to her. Call me as soon as she gets there," he added hastily. "I'll be at police headquarters."

Lucy said, "Yes, Michael," in a subdued tone. Then, "And — Michael?"

"Yes?"

"Your glass of brandy is still sitting here and it's still an hour and 25 minutes until midnight."

He hung up and got his hat, went down to drive directly to Miami police headquarters.

Will Gentry was still in his private office. He was closeted there with Timothy Rourke, a reporter and one of Shayne's oldest friends in the city.

Will Gentry was a big, square man, with a florid, open countenance.

"Just in time to spoil the point of my story. Thought you had a date with Lucy tonight?" Rourke said.

"I did. A blonde came between us," Shayne grinned at him and pulled a chair close to Gentry's desk. "Had any unexplained corpses tonight, Will?"

"No corpses of any sort. You?"

"Had any sort of trouble at the Hibiscus Hotel?"

"I don't think so," Gentry looked at the reporter. "You had anything, Tim?"

"Not a thing all evening," Rourke tilted his chair forward so all four legs were on the floor, leaned his cadaverous body forward eagerly. "Got something, Mike?"

Shayne went on to tell about his first brief encounter with the young woman in the lobby who was so eager for him to take on an immediate tailing job, and his interview with the other girl upstairs. He omitted only the fact that he had given the girl a note to Lucy and told her to go there, ending the first part of his story with her locking herself in the kitchen while he admitted the man with the scar on his face.

"So, what do you make of it thus far?" he demanded.

Chief Gentry took the cigar butt from his mouth. With the easy accuracy of a major league short stop throwing to first, he tossed it aside into a brass spittoon in one corner.

Truman Ready To Stump for Any Candidate

CHICAGO, Aug. 13.—Former President Truman said today he would be willing to campaign personally for Adlai E. Stevenson if the former Illinois governor wins the Democratic presidential nomination.

Mr. Truman, striding down Michigan Boulevard on an early morning walk, said that "naturally" he hoped New York Gov. Averell Harriman got the nomination, but he was ready to take the stump for any Democrat, including Stevenson.

The former President's chuckling good humor attested to the fact that he is having a whale of a good time at his party's convention. He planned to spend most of the day conferring with "a list of people a yard long" before going to the convention hall tonight to hear the keynote speech by Gov. Frank Clement of Tennessee.

Asked whether he intended to support Stevenson should he win the nomination, Mr. Truman said, "I'll support the nominee of the convention."

Braves Beat Reds, 8-4, to Hold First Place Lead; Dodgers Rout Roberts, 7-3

By United Press
A pitcher for every occasion—that's Fred Haney's formula for keeping the Milwaukee Braves on top in the torrid National League pennant race.

Bob Buhl is the key man with six straight victories over the Brooklyn Dodgers and Lew Burdette's the No. 1 boy when it comes to handling the slugging Cincinnati Redlegs. Burdette did it for the third time without a loss Sunday when he beat the Redlegs, 8-2, and enabled the Braves to hold their 11-2 game first-place lead.

Burdette, raising his record to 14-7, pitched a five-hitter as the Braves raised their season's edge over the Redlegs to 8-4. They've beaten the Redlegs eight of their last 10 meetings.

Dodgers Pound Roberts

The second-plac. Dodgers kept pace with the Braves when they walloped four homers in routing Robin Roberts and beating the Philadelphia Phillies, 7-3. Carl Furillo hit two round-trippers and Randy Jackson and Pee Wee Reese one each as Roger Craig received credit for his 11th win.

Jim King knocked in three runs with a homer and a bases filled single to lead the Chicago Cubs to a 6-2 decision over the St. Louis Cardinals and the teams then battled to a scoreless deadlock in the second game of their double-header. Stan Musial doubled in the sixth inning of the opener to tie Mel Ott's National League mark of 1,071 extra base hits. The nightcap was halted by darkness after nine innings.

Bill Virdon's two-run, fourth-inning triple gave the Pittsburgh Pirates a 3-2 victory over the New York Giants and the Bucs then pounded out 17 hits to complete a sweep of the doubleheader with an 11-3 decision.

Mantle Bangs No. 41

Mickey Mantle slammed his 41st homer to go 13 games ahead of Babe Ruth's record pace as the New York Yankees beat the Baltimore Orioles, 6-2 and 4-2, to increase their American League lead to 8 1-2 games.

The second place Cleveland Indians beat the Kansas City Athletics, 6-3, when Rocky Colavito smashed a three-run homer in the eighth inning. Herb Score struck out 14 batters to raise his season total to 182 and record his 12th victory.

The Washington Senators made it nine wins in 13 games with the third-place Boston Red Sox when they beat them, 8-2, with the aid of Jim Lemon's 20th homer.

Billy Hoelt fanned six and pitched an eight-hitter to give the Detroit Tigers a 5-2 triumph over the Chicago White Sox.

AWAITING AN ANSWER

Looking at Sports

BY BILL MELTON

I have never been a "hot rodder." In fact I have always considered the hot rod driver a menace to the automobile public. But maybe I just didn't understand the hot rod fraternity. A couple of days ago this department received a letter from a public relations bureau working for the Automobile Timing Association of America, Inc. (ATAA) that makes a very good case for the hot rod drivers.

I still am not too sold on hot rod drivers, but the letter did give me a new insight on the group and maybe it will help others also to understand some of the things the organization is attempting to do.

The letter, in full, follows:
"Hot rodgers are among the safest drivers on the road today."

That is the opinion of James Lamona, events director for the Automobile Timing Association of America, Inc. (ATAA), a national non-profit organization of hot rodgers.

Lamona bases his belief on the fact that his organization has just completed 100,000 miles of drag racing without an accident. "Furthermore," he says, "hot rodgers are as much interested in building safety and efficiency into their cars as speed."

Lamona will direct the third annual World Series of Drag Racing Aug. 22-26 at Lawrenceville, Ill., where some 1500 hot rodgers from across the country will vie for prizes and honors.

"The hot rodger is trying to show that while he has achieved maximum efficiency out of his revamped car, he has done it with every possible safety measure."

Organized hot rod activities include supervised drag racing, reliability runs and safety checkers. Members of hot rod clubs who get traffic tickets are expelled from their club.

Hot rodgers themselves have helped develop numerous safety devices for cars. These include knockout windshields which give away under impact, leak-proof firewalls between engine and driver, portable fire extinguishers, and instruments to warn of impending mechanical failure.

In addition, hot rodgers have been testing and using for years safety devices recently recommended by the American College of Surgeons. Among these are safety belts, telescoped steering wheels, anchored front seats, padded and streamlined instrument panels, and door locks which prevent the door from springing open in a crash.

Hot rodgers, unlike "shot rodgers" — who race recklessly on public highways — must conform to the strictest safety rules when they engage in a drag race. This is a race of acceleration begun from a dead stop and run over a quarter mile electronically timed course.

Their activity, through ATAA, is sponsored by the manufacturers of Marmont Mufflers, Holley Carburetors, Proto Tools, Grizzly Brake Linings and Accurate Clutches.

Supervised hot rodding, with safety always uppermost, has been supported by the International Chief of Police, The National Safety Council and by Civic groups from coast to coast.

"More than 100,000 miles of races without an accident is no coincidence," says ATAA's events director.

"The hot rodger knows his car and its limitations and since all his activities revolve around safety he is one of the safest drivers on the road today."

Ed Fredette and Jim Sandusky, Benton high school graduates, plan to attend Miami (Florida) University this fall.

Whitey Rouviere, former Christopher high school footballer who went to stardom at Miami, will be on the Miami coaching staff this year.

Rouviere, a cousin of Sandusky, was drafted by the Washington Redskins, but passed up professional football to continue his dental studies at the university.

Paducah, 4-1,
Uniontown, 17-6

The Harrisburg Legion baseball club won two games over the weekend as it beat the Paducah Sportsmen, 4-1, Saturday night at the local VFW park, and then pounded the Uniontown, Ky., Boosters there Sunday afternoon, 17-6.

Saturday night's game was a fast, well-played affair and was tied until the fifth inning when the Legion broke a 1-1 tie with one marker and then later tallied two more in the last of the eighth.

Paducah scored first when it put across one run on three singles in the second. The Legion bounced back in the third when Dick Odle hit a long triple and rode home on Ronnie Ziegler's clothesline single to center. The locals counted again in the fifth when Roper drew a base on balls and then Ziegler lashed a long triple to right center to drive him in. In the eighth Logsdon walked, Romonosky singled and Dallas hit a fly ball to right which was dropped, Logsdon scoring and Romonosky going to third. Romonosky then scored the last run of the game for the Legion on a long sacrifice fly ball by Odle.

Frank Logsdon and Merle Dailey made circus catches in the outfield to rob Paducah of two potential extra base hits.

"Showboat" Patterson, the Paducah catcher, put on a good show for the fans with his fancy catching. He also led his team at bat with three hits.

Bob Roper was the winning pitcher with Walden taking the loss.

With John Mills pitching a steady eight-hitter on Sunday, the Legion slaughtered the Uniontown team, 17-6. The infield, composed of Ziegler, Odle, Stout and Dallas, all turned in outstanding plays with Logsdon again coming through with a fine running catch in the outfield.

Bill McNew was behind the plate in Sunday's game and handled Mills beautifully.

The totals for the locals' weekend hitting: Ziegler 6, Odle 3, McNew 3, Roper 3, Stout 3, Dallas 2, Romonosky 2, Mills 2, Miller 1, and Threet 1.

Next Saturday night the Legion will play the strong Evansville Tigers, colored team, at the VFW park and then will travel to Evansville Sunday for a return game with the same team.

Hot Delegate Fight
By Stevenson, Harriman

at 12:03 p. m. CDT with a good part of the delegates still caucusing down town or otherwise getting set for the big event of the meeting—the balloting.

Attendance began to pick up as the oratory mounted but the first session was largely devoid of news. The tempo will pick up tonight when Gov. Frank G. Clement of Tennessee delivers the keynote address.

Both Stevenson and Harriman were up early in search of delegates who might be swayed to their side.

As Democratic National Chairman Paul M. Butler gavelled the convention into session both the Stevenson and Harriman camps made claims of ultimate success. But both sides knew they were in a fight.

Scarcely half the delegates were in the hall when the convention was called to order by Butler at 12:03 p. m. CDT.

Truman to Support Nominee

It was a session of formalities, while the politicking went on in the hotels.

After a brief welcome by Butler, the invocation was delivered by the Rev. Dr. Robert K. Bell, president of the non-denominational Church Federation of Chicago.

The First National Bank of Chicago post of the American Legion presented the colors, Johnny Desmond sang the National Anthem.

Stevenson said he was "confident, extremely confident." The tenor of remarks from the Harriman camp was "Ave's in."

Stevenson was more than 2-to-1 ahead of Harriman in delegate support as the convention got underway.

Harry S. Truman, the man who turned the convention into a race, said, "I'll support the nominee of the convention."

Promises Battle With GOP

The former President on Saturday transformed what looked like a Stevenson walk-over into a real battle by pinning a Harriman button on his coat and declaring the New York governor is the party's best qualified candidate for president.

But Mr. Truman made it clear today he'll get out and whistle-stop for Stevenson if he's the man the Democrats decide they want.

For Mr. Truman, now that he had made his choice known, the big thing was to get on with the convention and plunge into no-nonsense battle with the Republicans.

"I think this convention will nominate a ticket that will sweep the terrible administration in Washington right out into the middle of Pennsylvania Avenue," he said.

"There never was a time in the history of the United States," Mr. Truman added, "when we needed an honest administration as we need it now."

Dulles Assured Of Bipartisan Suez Support

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of State John Foster Dulles will go to the 22-nation London conference on the Suez crisis Thursday with solid bipartisan support, administration sources said today.

The sources said Dulles gained support at Sunday's extraordinary White House meeting with congressional leaders to discuss the Suez dispute. They said the congressmen did not ask for any changes in administration plans for trying to get a peaceful solution to the controversy.

Democratic congressmen who attended the meeting were not so emphatic, however. Senate Democratic Leader Lyndon B. Johnson said that "politics ends at the water's edge" when asked if Dulles carried bipartisan support. But he also emphasized that any decisions on foreign policy would have to be made by the administration and that the administration would have to assume full responsibility.

Johnson, in an impromptu news conference later in Chicago, said his future course in the Suez matter will require "a great deal of thought." He said the crisis "may be partially of our own making."

At the meeting with congressional leaders, Johnson said, Mr. Eisenhower reviewed the background of the dispute, outlined the course which he proposes to follow, and stressed the seriousness to this country if the matter is not resolved.

To a question, Johnson said, Mobilization Director Arthur S. Fleming did not outline a proposition for increasing oil production in the United States if canal shipping is curtailed. But he said Fleming talked about how many barrels of oil would be needed under such circumstances.

Dulles leaves for London Tuesday.

Knowland Predicts
Nixon Will Be GOP Vice Presidential Nominee

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. William F. Knowland predicted after a meeting with President Eisenhower today that Richard M. Nixon will be the Republican vice presidential nominee.

Knowland conferred with Mr. Eisenhower at the White House for about 30 minutes.

Asked whether he discussed the vice presidential nomination with the President, Knowland said he was not in a position to go into details of their conversation. He said they covered politics "generally," some problems which might come up at the Republican convention in San Francisco, problems of the last session of Congress and prospects for the next session of Congress.

Britain Begins Pulling Troops From Germany

Increases Flow
Of Men, Planes,
Guns to Mid-East

LONDON (AP) — Britain has begun to pull its troops and equipment out of West Germany to replenish strategic reserves during the Suez Canal crisis, a German government spokesman announced today in Bonn.

The Bonn government announcement came as Britain increased its flow of troops, planes and guns to the Middle East in answer to Egypt's refusal to attend the conference in London Thursday on internationalizing the Suez Canal. Hundreds of British troops left Britain today for the Mediterranean in the biggest airlift since the Berlin blockade. The airlift, mysteriously postponed for 48 hours, was resumed in the face of Egypt's firm stand on the canal.

The British Foreign Office, meanwhile, announced that the Big Three foreign ministers will meet in London Wednesday to bring themselves up to date on the Suez crisis.

Deny U. S. Has Plan

A spokesman denied reports that the United States had come up with a new Suez compromise on its own which differs from the Big Three plan to put the canal under international control. The new plan was said to have provided for Egyptian control of the Suez under supervision of something like an "international supreme court." "No such proposal has been received," the spokesman said.

At the same time the Egyptian press launched a new and virulent attack on Britain, concentrating on the Western oil holdings in the Middle East, and using such terms as "imperialistic" holdings and "illegitimate interests."

The West German spokesman said British authorities had assured the Bonn government that the units now being withdrawn from the Rhine army will be replaced once the emergency has passed.

Symington Awaits Stevenson-Harriman Deadlock to Clear Way for Dark Horse

CHICAGO (AP) — Sen. Stuart Symington, an "inactive" but "available" candidate for the Democratic presidential nomination, waited today for a possible convention deadlock to clear the track for a dark horse.

The Missouri senator said his chances of getting the nomination are "relatively slim." But his supporters viewed the situation differently.

James Meredith, St. Louis, Symington's 1952 campaign manager, predicted a convention deadlock between the forces of Adlai E. Stevenson and New York Gov. Averell Harriman as a result of former President Harry S. Truman's endorsement of Harriman.

"The end result will be that Symington will be nominated," Meredith said.

Members of the Missouri delegation made clear they did not view Symington merely as their state's favorite son, but as a full-fledged candidate. They reported that "quite a few" delegates from other states were looking favorably on Symington.

Ever since Mr. Truman threw his support to Harriman, Symington has been talked of increasingly as a dark horse possibility for the nomination.

Mr. Truman himself gave Symington a qualified blessing Sunday. While making clear that he still is for Harriman, the former President said Symington is "a good man anywhere you want to put him."
